How to use the Traffic Lights

If a child displays an inappropriate behaviour in class that is disrupting the class and impeding the learning of others:

1. Give the child a verbal warning, informing them that if this behaviour continues, their name will be placed on the traffic lights. For example: "XXXX you are not being respectful, responsible and safe in our classroom. If this continues, your name will be written on the green light."
2. If the child continues to display inappropriate classroom behaviour, place their name on the green traffic light.
3. If the child still continues to display inappropriate classroom behaviour, move their name up to the orange/yellow light. Inform the child that if they continue to display inappropriate behaviour, they will be sent to another classroom for reflection.
4. If the child continues to display inappropriate classroom behaviour, move the child's name to reflection on the red traffic light. Please send the child to your buddy class with SLSO for the student to be in the reflection class for a short period of time.
5. If the child returns from time out and continues to display inappropriate behaviour in the classroom please refer to executive. Please ensure after a student has gone on to the red traffic light or behaviours continue you add an entry to Sentral, well-being.

After lunch and recess all students are removed from the traffic lights and start fresh.
